What we got up to:

In the morning we had three showers, £2 for 10 min each, it was the best money we had spent all week :-). Had coffee at the mill shop, the chap behind the counter told us a funny story about the stones in the middle of the mere. We ordered bacon butties then went up the mill, excellent view, see the pics.

We forgot to return the key for the shower block, must find the time to post them back!

We were going to go to Martham Broad and Somerton, but we were told that stretch of river was full off weed and other boats had turned back.

Instead, we went straight on back to Potter Higham. We went back past St Benets Abbey and went in to South Walsham Broad no where to stop but got to sail around the sailing only part, which is the first time I have been able to do that.

We then went up the river Ant and sailed all the way to Ludham Bridge.

We had excellent meal in Wayfarer Bistro, the best meal of the holiday. After rebooting their router I was able to connect to their WIFI to upload pictures to this blog, which was the icing on the cake!!

The route we took today:
